

other pieces

gerhard schultz

—3 to 9 performers

without revealing to someone else their choice, performers select and perform a part from another score of experimental music which depends on feedback throughout the performance, either from the environment or from other performers, where specific conditions might be met, not simply intuitive or musical ones.

june 2010, berlin